

International Medical students' Online Exchange Program

“The importance of effective team-based Interprofessional communication for safe & competent patient care”.

NUS &
Yokohama City
University (Japan)
Joint-Event

Program:
Session 1 Lecture
Session 2 Group Discussion
Session 3 Wrap up

October 22, 2021 (Fri)
6-8pm (Singapore)

Application Deadline:
October 7 (Fri)

Needless to say, effective team-based interprofessional communication is important so that medical staff of various occupations can collaborate and demonstrate their specialized skills. In this event, Dr. Nakamura, who has been devoted to medical safety for decades, will give a mini lecture on interprofessional communication in Japan. Following the mini-lecture, you will have a chance for discussion with Japanese medical students on Zoom.

Lecturers

Dr. Suresh
Pillai NUS

Dr. Kyota
Nakamura YCU

Facilitators

Dr. Hirotohi
Akiyama YCU

Dr. Takashi
Kosaka YCU

Application